

Nancy Mattis BIPOC Scholarship Application
Expressive Arts Therapy Training Program: September 2021 - June 2022

Nancy Mattis was a NYC Public School Teacher with a love of the Arts and Humanities. It is in her memory and thanks to the generosity of her sister Linda, that NWCEAI offers this scholarship to help a student with tuition for the Expressive Arts Therapy Professional Training Program.

Objective: To support increase access to members of historically underrepresented and systemically oppressed racialized communities within the U.S. and to create greater representation in field of expressive arts therapy by members of these communities.

Amount: Full tuition: $5,300.00

Selection Criteria:

- Strength of interest and calling towards expressive arts therapy
- Clarity and creativity of intention about the way that the NWCEAI Expressive Arts Therapy Professional Training Program fits within current professional development goals of the applicant
- Applicant self identifies as a Black, Indigenous, and/or Person of Color

Please answer the following questions in 1-2 pages, or about 500 words, double-spaced. Return by May 15, 2021 via email to info@seattlearttherapy.org or mail to NWCEAI P.O. Box 33032, Seattle, WA 98133.

1. What are your hopes and expectations for feeling connected and represented in our Program?
2. How do you envision applying the knowledge you learn from our Program?
3. Who will benefit from the skills you gain from the Program?
4. How would the scholarship help you?
5. How has art been healing in your own life?
6. Is there anything else we should know?